

Finally, auditing software designed to make your job easier!

Are you still wasting your time with paper audits?

Do you bring your handwritten notes back to the office and spend hours or even days preparing your audit reports?

Wouldn't your rather being doing other things with your time?

Prepare your checklists and protocols using any word processor or editor (left), then let the Aware authoring tools convert your text into an easy to use electronic audit (above).

Now you can ...

Build you own protocols

Use the Audit Definition Language (ADL) to author custom audits. Simple, yet powerful, ADL ranges from basic page codes to advanced logic triggers, enterprise authoring tools, navigation, and scoring schemes.

Kick the paper habit

Collect, access, organize and report information electronically instead of on paper.

Take your audits on the road

Aware is designed to run on laptops and tablet PC's. Your audits can be conducted faster and more consistently – without expensive hardware upgrades.

Automate your data entry

Create default answers and trigger standardized recommendations and notes using ADL trigger rules.

Protect your data

Aware provides a variety of advanced security features that make it easy to safeguard valuable corporate data.

Minimize training costs

Aware is easy to use and can be quickly mastered even by neophyte PC users. Audits are presented using Aware's patent pending audit notebook interface – users simply turn pages and answer questions – it's that easy! Aware's menus, toolbars, and keyboard shortcuts honor Microsoft Office "Look and Feel" conventions so Office users are productive immediately.

Produce reports without re-keying

Aware provides a variety of standard templates to report the results of your audits. Not enough? Easily create custom report formats to meet your needs.

Add context to your data

Annotation tools like comments, recommendations, sticky notes, highlighters, bookmarks, basic file attachments and multimedia inserts allow an auditor to capture the broadest amount of information possible.

Share your audit data

Aware runs standalone and in LAN and internet enabled modes. Aware internet tools provide workflow routing of audit data and reports via industry standard email, FTP, HTTP and HTTPS protocols.
